SERIOUS CHARGES

Former Legislative Agent of Mutual Life Gives Trustees the Lie.

DEFENDS HIS HONOR

SAYS COMPANY MANAGERS KNEW ALL HE WAS DOING AND APPROVED OF HIS ACTS

NEW YORK April 6—Charges similar to those recently made against the directors of the New York Life by Andrew Hamilton were made today against the trustees of the Mutual Life Insurance company by Andrew C. Fields. The former legislative agent of the Mutual is now in seclusion at his home at Dobbs Ferry. He is said to be seriously ill.

The charges against the Mutual trustees were made in the following formal statement which Fields issued through his physician:

"In the first place I never gave a bribe to any one in the whole course of my career. I have come home prepared to vindicate myself completely. In doing so I shall let the truth which I shall speak fall upon whom it may. All of the trustees of the Mutual who are now pointing the finger of scorn at me were aware of all I was doing in connection with legislative work for the Mutual and when they say they are ignorant of the character of my work they are saying that which is untrue. I am here to challenge them on every such statement they may make. I am not an old man like Richard A. McCurdy, whose age is so great that he could not defend himself. While my bodily strength is not what it might be I am mentally as strong as ever I was and I am determined to vindicate myself in the eyes of the public.

It Is to Laugh

"I have to laugh when I read the statements of the trustees to the effect that a portion of the records of the supply department of the Mutual is missing or was destroyed. I will say now that it is absurd to say that a single book or record in the supply department of which I was head, has been taken from the company's office. This story simply amuses me nothing more. These trustees will have all the records of the supply department when they want them. They are not missing.

"As to the payments by Robert Oliphant chairman of the expenditure committee, of amounts ranging from $25,000 upward, and aggregating in all about $600,000 paid to me I will say that I can furnish a full and complete explanation of exactly what was done with this money and can show that every payment was fully authorized. I saved for the Mutual Life by my work at Albany thousands of dollars and in doing so never committed a dishonest act. I do not propose that the men associated with me in the Mutual shall destroy my reputation to serve their own private ends.

A Gross Libel.

"The story about the so-called 'house of myth' in Albany was a gross libel. Nothing ever took place in that house, which was simply my Albany residence, of which I or any other God-fearing man need be ashamed.

"I am prepared to tell the truth no matter whom it may hurt, be his position high or low."

Dr. Judson said Mr. Fields would not be able to see any one for two weeks at least. His patient is suffering from an incurable disease, he said, but by careful treatment his life may be prolonged for years.

William H. Truesdale chairman of the Mutual's investigating committee, said today that Mr. Fields would probably be asked to make a statement to the committee. Such a statement, however, would be purely voluntary.

A SHAW BANQUET

ARRANGEMENTS FOR EVENT BEING MADE IN SPITE OF DECLINATIONS.

ST. LOUIS, April 6.—A meeting of members of various committees in charge of arrangements for the banquet to be tendered Secretary of the Treasury Shaw here on April 26 met today and decided to proceed with arrangements notwithstanding the declination last night of Chairman T. K. Neidringhaus of the Republican state committee to attend and the further fact that declinations were received today from General John W. Noble former secretary of the interior who was selected as grand marshal of the parade and Colonel George B. Reynolds, who was named on the reception committee.

General Noble said:

"I declined to serve in either the parade or on the reception committee when I received notice of my selection. I did not state my reasons and I prefer to withhold them. However it was not because I have any objection to Secretary Shaw being entertained in St. Louis."

Colonel Reynolds gave no reason for his declination.

Chairman Niedringhaus declined because R. C. Kerens and Ed Butler were invited.

MRS. ROOSEVELT AND CHILDREN EXPECTED TODAY

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 6.—Mrs. Roosevelt and her children are expected to arrive here tomorrow morning on the yacht Mayflower and to take the Southern railroad at 2:20 in the afternoon for Washington.

PORTLAND, ORE., HAS BIG FIRE

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BUILDING BADLY DAMAGED YESTERDAY.

ONE MAN JUMPS EIGHT STORIES TO HIS DEATH—HUNDREDS WERE RESCUED BY FIREMEN

PORTLAND, Ore., April 6.—The most spectacular fire which ever occurred in Portland destroyed the eighth story of the Chamber of Commerce building this afternoon, and it was the indirect cause of the death of Homer H. Hallock right of way agent for the [illegible] Traction company. Mr. Hallock, [illegible] the [illegible] which the fire [illegible] to have [illegible] suddenly and despite the efforts of several men who strove to restrain him jumped into the light shaft to the court [illegible] eight stories below and was instantly killed.

The property loss is estimated at $200,000 [illegible] insured. The building was recently purchased by the United Railways [illegible] for $[illegible].

The fire broke out in the parlor of the Commercial club from an unknown cause, though it is said the careless [illegible] of a lighted match into some [illegible] was responsible for the conflagration. The fire spread with wonderful rapidity, causing a panic among the 400 employes of the 200 offices in the building. A rush was made for the elevators, stairways and fire escapes. The upper works of the elevators were burned out almost before the fire bells stopped ringing and panic stricken people [illegible] the stairs and fire escapes.

Unable to escape by the usual means of egress about 15 men and women crept out through the windows onto the wide cornices where they awaited rescue. A suffocating smoke swept over them and it was expected some would be overcome by smoke and heat before the firemen could reach them. When all had apparently been rescued by means of extension ladders a man's head peering far over the edge of the [illegible] of the roof was discovered and the firemen once more ascended to the perilous height. It was found that the ladders had to be spliced on before the firemen could reach him. When they finally did so he was in a state of collapse. When the firemen reached him a tremendous cheer arose from the thousands of spectators. The subject of this spectacular rescue was Tom Richardson manager of the club who had his private office in the tower of the building.

A witness to the tragic death of Hallock has been found. He declares Hallock did not jump into the light well, but sought to escape the flames through a window looking out from the Commercial club's rooms into the light well. The witness who has offices on the sixth floor says Hallock climbed through the window endeavored to find a foothold with the evident desire of making his way to the seventh floor, that suddenly the window to which he clung wobbled as though it had become loosened from its fastenings and in his desperation Hallock grasped a wire which gave way under his weight.

SENATOR ALGER NOT A CANDIDATE

DOES NOT ASPIRE TO SUCCEED HIMSELF IN UNITED STATES SENATE—FAILING HEALTH.

DETROIT, April 6.—Announcement was made today from Senator R. A. Alger's office in this city that he will not be a candidate to succeed himself in the senate when the legislature meets on January 1 next. The announcement took the form of a letter which it was stated was received today from the senator. It says:

"Owing to the condition of my health I am compelled to withdraw my candidacy to succeed myself in the United States senate. While it is a great sacrifice to sever a connection of many years standing with the public affairs of my state that sacrifice has become necessary. I take this opportunity to convey to the friends who have so loyally give me their support my heartfelt thanks and sense of lasting obligation and to express to the state my deep gratitude for the honors it has seen fit to confer upon me."

At Senator Alger's office a story printed here this afternoon to the effect that the senator was about to resign the senatorship in addition to withdrawing his candidacy for re-election was declared to be without foundation.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Senator Alger's determination not to be a candidate to succeed himself in the senate does not occasion any great surprise to his friends in Washington. For some time his health has not been good. He is suffering with a weak heart and early this week while at Atlantic City whither he had gone for rest and recuperation his condition for a time was said to have been serious. The senator rallied however and last Monday he returned to Washington somewhat improved. Since his return to Washington he has kept to his home. He expects to resume his seat in the senate on Monday.

GEORGE C. EASTON IS HANGED FOR MURDER

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 6.—George C. Easton was hanged at the Folsom state prison today for the murder of Charles Herman at Dixon, November 1, 1904. Easton ascended the gallows without assistance and betrayed no fear of death. Before the black cap was adjusted he thanked the guards and prison officials for their kind treatment.

HUNGARIAN CRISIS ENDS

ACUTE AND BITTER CONTROVERSY IS SETTLED BY A COMPROMISE.

COALITION RESPONSIBLE FOR AMICABLE ADJUSTMENT OF TROUBLE NEWS CAUSES REJOICING.

VIENNA, April 6.—After 14 months of controversy always of an acute and [illegible] of a bitter nature between the crown and the coalition parties the Hungarian crisis [illegible] has been settled. Both sides express satisfaction [illegible] which on the one hand is [illegible] to be a [illegible] [illegible] for the crown but appears [illegible] [illegible] the future of [illegible] compromise.

The news of peace is received with rejoicing [illegible] everywhere [illegible] heartily tired of the struggle which has had such a disastrous effect on the financial and economic situation [illegible] Hungary.

The compromise which came unexpectedly was chiefly due to the efforts of the coalition who feared at the last moment the advent of a period of absolutism which was inevitable if the elections were not held before April 9 as prescribed by the constitution. The Fejervary cabinet welcomed the overtures of the coalition and thus an agreement was speedily reached. Hungary can now return to her normal political existence.

The elections will be held within the proper time and parliamentary government re-established the crown will get the recruits wanted for the army funds for military service will be voted and the customs tariff and commercial treaties will be ratified by the Hungarian parliament. The commercial union with Austria is assured until 1917.

Francis Kossuth the coalition leader today declared himself satisfied. He said the result was not a victory for either party.

Herr Kossuth announced that he would not enter the cabinet.

It is expected that the appointment of the new ministry and the proclamation of elections will be officially announced on April 8.

STRIKING COAL MINER IS SHOT AND KILLED.

GREENSBURG, Pa., April 6.—John Wessel a striking miner was shot and killed tonight while going from his home to an outbuilding. It is not known who fired the shot. Wessel, it is alleged had promised to go to work in the morning. The shooting has created great excitement.

Late tonight Edward Robbins on behalf of the Pittsburg and Baltimore company applied for an injunction to restrain the strikers at the Edna No. 1 and No. 2 plants from interfering with the miners who want to continue at work.

YALE WRESTLERS WIN

NEW YORK, April 6.—Yale's wrestlers won the intercollegiate wrestling championship in the Columbia university gymnasium tonight by defeating the teams of Columbia, Princeton and Pennsylvania.

CURZON BANQUETED

Retiring Viceroy of India Honored by Pilgrims Society.

LONDON, April 6.—The Pilgrims society tonight gave a banquet at the Savoy to Lord Curzon of Keddleston in honor of the conclusion of his service as viceroy of India. Lord Roberts, who presided proposed the toast to King Edward and President Roosevelt which was enthusiastically received.

Lord Curzon made a notable speech. He referred to the Philippines and expressed the hope that the Americans would achieve there the same measure of success that Great Britain has gained in India. There were frequent references to the Pilgrims in honor of Earl Grey at New York. All the speakers expressed the hope that these dinners marked a new and important era of closer relations to Anglo-Saxon people.

In the course of his speech Mr. Justice Darling said that he was glad to learn that the British people were planning to return to the United States a picture of Benjamin Franklin which was captured during the war of independence. The speaker was greeted with shouts of laughter when he suggested that Americans might reciprocate by returning what they had won as the result of that war.

FIVE GAMBLERS KILLED ON A RIVER STEAMER

WARSAW, April 6.—Eight armed men today boarded the river steamer Wawel plying between Warsaw and Plock and when the vessel was in midstream ordered five gamblers who were playing in the cabin to go on deck, where the men shot the gamblers killing three and mortally wounding two. The two men then ordered the captain to stop the ship at a way station where they landed and disappeared in the woods.

GENERAL M'CASKEY TO GO TO DEPARTMENT OF DAKOTA.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Lieutenant General Bates chief of staff has issued orders assigning Brigadier General McCaskey to the command of the department of Dakota. General McCaskey is now in command of the department of the Colorado at Denver.

VESUVIUS IS ACTIVE

Several Towns Threatened With Destruction—People Panic Stricken.

SCENE OF GRANDEUR

A COLUMN OF FIRE 1,000 FEET HIGH ILLUMINATES SKY AND SEA FOR MANY MILES

NAPLES, April 6.—The inhabitants of the villages in the vicinity of Mount Vesuvius are in a condition bordering on panic. Many houses have been abandoned for the open air, although there has been a thick fog all day and the atmosphere has been dense with volcanic ashes and the fumes of subterranean fires. The churches are crowded day and night with people praying for deliverance from an impending peril, manifestations of which are heard and felt in explosions which resemble a heavy cannonading and in the tremblings of the earth which are constantly recurring.

The main stream of lava proceeding from Vesuvius is 200 feet wide and it flows at times at the rate of twenty-[illegible] a minute destroying vegetation before the stream reaches it. The peasants of Portici at the west foot of [illegible] cleared their grounds and [illegible] vines and trees in the effort to lessen the damage from fire and retard the progress of the lava to their [illegible].

The population of Boscotrecase on the southern declivity of the mountain [illegible] sight safety in flight and Boscotrecase to the eastward is also threatened. Women of this village weeping with fright carried a statue of St. Anne as near as they could go to the flow.

PHILADELPHIA BRINGS SUIT

SEEKS TO RECOVER $5,000,000 FROM CONTRACTORS AND FORMER OFFICIALS.

SUM IS ALLEGED TO HAVE BEEN UNLAWFULLY SPENT IN CONSTRUCTION OF FILTER PLANT.

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—Civil proceedings were instituted today by the city against the contractors and former city officials interested in the construction of the municipal filter plant to recover $5,000,000 which sum is alleged to have been wrongfully retained by the defendants. A bill in equity was also filed with the prothonotary of the common pleas court by City Solicitor Kinsey and former Judge James G. Gordon, Mayor Weaver's private counsel. Those named in the bill are Israel W. Durham, the former Republican leader of this city, State Senator J. P. McNicholl, A. McNicholl, his wife, Daniel J. McNicholl, John M. Mack all of whom were at one time members of the contracting firm of Daniel J. McNicholl & Co., William J. Haddock and Peter Costello, former directors of public works, and John W. Hill. The prayer is sworn to by Mayor Weaver.

The bill is in the form of a paper book of more than 4,000 pages containing the entire history of the filtration plant contracts and setting forth in detail the mass of evidence that has been gathered showing alleged wrongful acts of the defendants by which the city was defrauded.

This bill is expected to give the public the facts upon which the mayor and his counsel rely to prove the charges that have been made from time to time against D. J. McNicholl & Co. It is the first of the civil suits to be begun by the city since the beginning of the investigation in the construction of the filters and many of the statements contained in it are along the line of the report made by the filtration committee and signed by Major Gillette.

STATE BOARD REFUSES TO PARDON ASMUSSEN

Special to The Gazette

CRIPPLE CREEK, April 6.—Despite the arguments of a delegation of citizens the state board of pardons in Denver this afternoon declined to interfere in the case of E. H. Asmussen the saloonkeeper who was fined $300 and sentenced to six months in jail for keeping his place open on Sunday. Many petitions were sent to the governor and the delegation called upon him personally. He referred the matter to the board of pardons and an adverse decision was given.

In giving its decision the board announced that no pardons would be granted unless at least six months of the sentence of the applicant has been served.

ARBITRATION IS PROPOSED

BITUMINOUS OPERATORS GO TO MITCHELL WITH HIS ANTHRACITE SCHEME.

MINERS' CHIEF IS NONCOMMITTAL—IT IS SAID THAT PLAN IS NOT LIKELY TO BE ACCEPTED.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Interest in the labor troubles in the anthracite regions was overshadowed today by the proposition that came out of the west for the arbitration of the difficulties existing between the soft coal operators who have not yet agreed to the 1903 scale and the miners. The offer of the soft coal operators is identical word for word except where the term bituminous is substituted for anthracite with the one President Mitchell presented to the hard coal operators here yesterday. There was considerable speculation as to how the miners leader would receive his own arbitration plan. He was much interested in the news, but maintained his usual silence when asked what he would do. Within an hour of the receipt of the offer from J. H. Winder the head of the Ohio soft coal operators he sent a reply to the effect that he had no power to act on the proposition. Mr. Mitchell was asked what he thought of Mr. Winder's literary ability and he jokingly replied that he "admired it very much."

Leaders of the miners union did not think the executive board would favor the proposition. A member of the board said conditions in the soft coal region are much different from those in the anthracite regions. He pointed out that many operators had already signed the 1903 scale and that the number was increasing each day.

Nothing developed in the anthracite situation today to clearly indicate what the outcome of next Monday's meeting between the subcommittees of the miners and the operators would be. There was no formal meeting of the operators today, but most of them were in communication with one another. It was reported during the day that the arbitration offer of the miners would be flatly refused but it was denied by those in authority that a final decision had been reached. It was also reported that the operators may accept arbitration but with a different sort of tribunal.

President Mitchell said today that his side had nothing to do now but wait for the operators' answer. It has been settled that if the operators refuse the arbitration offer, a call will go out at once for a convention.

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—Much importance is attached to the meeting of independent operators held today in Wilkesbarre. Among the mine workers the impression appears to be growing that President Mitchell's arbitration proposition is not altogether acceptable to the operators and the fear is expressed that it may be rejected when the conferees meet in New York next Monday. Nothing was made public concerning the meeting of the independent operators.

Squads of the state police are daily traversing the region and report no disturbances of moment. Warrants were issued in Pittston today for the arrest of four members of the state police. They are charged with entering the homes of mine workers and confiscating guns.

$900,000 IN LEGACIES

Will of Mrs. Lucy Boardman Is Filed for Probate.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 6.—Legacies amounting to about $333,000 were made public when the will of the late Mrs. Lucy Boardman, wife of Judge W. W. Boardman, was offered for probate this afternoon. During her widowhood Mrs. Boardman gave away three-quarters of a million dollars to public and charitable institutions, while her private benefactions were exceedingly generous. After bequests amounting to $120,000 to relatives and friends, she gave $175,000 to the General Hospital, New Haven, $10,000 to Yale for assisting worthy students, $50,000 to Trinity college, Hartford, $10,000 to the Tuskegee institute and $50,000 to the Episcopal Domestic and Foreign Missionary society. Many large gifts are made to local charities.

NORCROSS CONFESSES AND NAMES HIS ACCOMPLICES

EL PASO, Texas, April 6.—John Norcross who was arrested in northern Mexico suspected of connection with the recent holdup of the Dolores mine treasure train has confessed and given the names of his alleged accomplices. Police officers say they are known as desperate characters and bandits who have been driven from the United States. Norcross was wounded in the back on the train and was abandoned by his comrades when the rurales pressed them closely. He was shot twice by rurales before he surrendered.

DOWIE TALKS OF DOWNFALL

SAYS HIS PEOPLE THOUGHT HE WAS GOING TO DIE AND ARE DISAPPOINTED.

DENIES MISUSE OF FUNDS—DECLARES HE IS NOT REMOVED AND WILL STRAIGHTEN THINGS OUT.

MEXICO CITY, April 6.—John Alexander Dowie before leaving last night for Chicago said in reply to a question as to how the revolt in Zion City could be explained:

"Now how am I to explain it? I can only explain in this manner. It is merely a guess and I may be wrong, but I think I am right: they, my wife and son, and all of them thought I was going to die and have been deeply disappointed. Apparently I am going to live and am on my way back home."

Continuing he said:

"They have done many things that were not right, not that they were crimes so much as blunders—unwillful departures from my policy. Some of these departures were quite serious. They joined together to try to keep me from going home. I was not going home for two months anyway but they did not want me then. Meanwhile they are fighting General Overseer Lewis and Secretary White on the Mexican proposition. We were generous to them in every way, but they were not generous to us. I loaned them, for instance, some resources of which I had control, that came from various parts of the world, and gave them money to help them in Zion City.

"I may say that one of the falsehoods they are telling is that I am deeply indebted to my bank. It is not true. I left money to my credit and I gave my check for many things and allowed them to be charged to me, which made my account look big, but which had nothing whatever to do with my personal expenses. Now their purpose has been to throw dust in the eyes of the people and they have succeeded and made them think suddenly that I was a cruel tyrant because I did not want this young man to continue in office. I make it a rule of not having incompetents in office. I must do that—it is my duty—all business men must, and I do not consider him a competent man.

"Today's papers says that I am threatened with arrest if I dare to go back. Back I go, back if I die upon the road. You think I am going to allow that kind of thing to go on? Certainly I will go back. If I have done anything wrong let me be punished. They say I have misused funds. If funds are placed in my hands for a number of years I have a right to use them but I do not misuse them. I have $21,000,000 of estate behind all obligations of Zion City after everything is accounted for. They say that this is one of the reasons why I am removed, so-called. Of course, I am not removed. How can they remove me? How could anybody remove the president whom the people put there? It is ridiculous! Nobody less in office can remove one higher in office."

CHARGES DOWIE MUST ANSWER

EXTRAVAGANCE, MISREPRESENTATION, EXAGGERATION, MISMANAGEMENT, POLYGAMOUS TEACHINGS.

CHICAGO, April 6.—In an interview tonight General Overseer Voliva, who has supplanted Dowie at Zion City, said that when the former leader of the Christian Catholic church returned to Zion City next week he would be accused of the following:

"Extravagance of the most shameful kind, misrepresentation, exaggeration, mismanagement, polygamous teachings in private, tyranny, injustice and indiscretion."

Dowie will be treated fairly according to Voliva and will be given every opportunity to meet every charge and to make reply.

"At the meeting of the 250 ecclesiastical officers of Zion last night everything said and done Sunday last was reviewed," said Voliva. "The action that has been taken was unanimously approved. Dowie's right as a suspended leader to try to wipe away the accusations that have been piling up against him was granted and it was decided that he should be tried before an ecclesiastical court. This court will be a fair and just tribunal and the trial will be open and without prejudice. The newspapers will be permitted to have representatives present. Charges which have been mentioned will be formally submitted in Dowie's presence and he will have an opportunity to make answer. He will be given all the time needed, but lawyers will not be allowed to appear for either side, as the proceedings will be purely ecclesiastical."

Voliva then announced the charges which would be made against Dowie at the trial and stated that he had abundant proof to substantiate everything that had been charged against the deposed leader of Zion.

MANY SUBJECTS DEBATED IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Tariff, railway mail subsidy, denatured alcohol and enlarged postal facilities for western cities were the features of the debate in the house today. What were alleged to be the iniquities of the Dingley tariff so far as watches are concerned were discussed by Mr. Rainey of Illinois whose tariff revision speech was listened to with much interest. The so-called "stand patters" made copious notes for the [illegible] protection [illegible].

DECIDE TO SIGN

Independent Operators of Western Pennsylvania to Pay Scale Demanded.

PEACE IS ASSURED

SAY INCREASE IS NOT WARRANTED BUT YIELDING ACTION FORCED BY [illegible] TO PROTECT CUSTOMERS.

PITTSBURG, April 6.—Peace is now assured in the miners' situation so far as the soft coal fields of western Pennsylvania are concerned. The organization of the independent operators who were holding out against granting the advance demanded by the miners, at a meeting tonight decided to give up the struggle and will sign the scale. A number of other members were wavering as to entering the agreement. The latter were not present but it was assured that they, too, would sign upon learning of the action of the meeting tonight.

Statement Given Out.

At the conclusion of the proceedings the following statement was given to the Associated Press:

"A large number of the independent operators of the Pittsburg district have signified their intention of signing the 1903 scale in justice to their customers. In so doing they fully believe that the action taken by the joint convention in January at Indianapolis was the correct position to take in view of the conditions of the coal trade for the past two years. They believe that conditions have in no way changed since that January convention that would warrant an advance in the wage scale at this time. Mr. Robbins, chairman of the Pittsburg Coal company at that convention and at the recent convention stated that the conditions did not justify an advance in the wage scale."

May Work Injury.

The independent operators further believe that in signing this scale it may work injury to the Pittsburg district. It may have the effect of ultimately establishing a differential against the Pittsburg district in favor of the western states and by increasing the wage scale in a depressed market and against the conditions of the coal trade, it may [illegible] to the miners' organization.

SEVERAL SMALL OPERATORS HAVE SIGNED THE SCALE

KANSAS CITY, April 6.—A large number of small operators in the several southwestern coal districts have signed the scale, and several thousand men have returned to work. The big operators are still holding out, but are not employing nonunion men or attempting to operate their mines.

The miners of the Kansas district are to meet at Pittsburg, Kas., tomorrow and the miners of Missouri at Kansas City on Monday. No joint conference covering the southwest has been arranged and nobody knows whether there will be a joint conference. If the miners show a disposition to meet them, the operators will not be unwilling.

SOFT COAL MINES ARE OPERATING

PEACE AND QUIET REIGN IN THE PITTSBURG DISTRICT. DOLAN FIGHT IS NOT ENDED.

PITTSBURG, April 6.—Absolute peace and quiet reigns in the bituminous coal fields today where yesterday the miners showed an ugly disposition and refused to work. The general feeling of satisfaction is attributed to the arrival of delegates from the district convention who yesterday adjourned and returned to their homes and explained the situation to the miners who hesitated to return to work. All danger of further trouble is thought to be over and by Monday it is asserted every mine will be in full operation. At Armstrong Coal company today reported that of the 19 mines operated by the Pittsburg Coal company the Monongahela and New York and Cleveland Coal company, but four were idle. One of these was undergoing repairs. Chairman Robbins of the Pittsburg Coal company said:

"About [illegible] are at work, and not more than 2,000 employed in our collieries are idle. They will probably resume in a few days. Yesterday we had 20 mines idle."

Patrick Dolan and Uriah Bellingham, the deposed president and vice president of the mine workers' district organization, were in possession of the headquarters and records today. Frank Fehan the newly-elected president, met with the executive board today to advise as to the legal steps to take to recover possession of the headquarters but no decision has yet been [illegible].

SPEAKER CANNON GIVES VIEWS OF TARIFF REVISION

WASHINGTON April 6—Speaker Cannon today made a further explanation of a letter recently written by him to a friend in East Liverpool Ohio, regarding the tariff The letter was published and seemed to indicate that tariff revision would probably come in the future The statement of the speaker today follows

'I was not aware that I was writing a letter for publication although I have no objection to its publication There are many people in the country, who believe that a single schedule or a few schedules of the tariff may be amended This is entirely impracticable for while an amendment to a single schedule might please a single interest it could not command enough votes to sustain it

In my judgment nothing can be done except by a complete revision of the tariff which would be a compromise that would command a majority vote of those 386 members of the house and the ninety senators

That the time will come when a general revision will be entered upon, I have no doubt but for the good of the whole country the revision should be postponed as long as possible Congress reflects the will of the people and the house of representatives is chosen every two years There will be a general congressional election next November Our friends the enemy, insist on an immediate revision of the tariff If a majority of the people demand immediate general revision they will elect a majority of the members of this house in favor of immediate general revision

FRAUD IN CHICAGO ELECTION.

CHICAGO April 6—Charges of fraud in the returns upon the municipal ownership proposition voted on last Tuesday have been received by Corporation Counsel Lewis and the county court, and the election commissioners will be asked to investigate the matter

It is asserted that in forty-one precincts the returns upon all of the three propositions relative to municipal ownership show exactly the same vote and this is said to be an impossibility

It is claimed by the advocates of municipal ownership that a re-count will show a gain of 8,000 votes for the proposition, and these together with the same loss for the negative votes and an error of 1,000 votes already found in the footing of the vote in the tenth ward will give the municipal operation proposition sufficient votes to become effective

ELECTIONS ANNULLED

St. Petersburg Election Commission Disqualifies Successful Candidates.

ST PETERSBURG April 6—The elections by the Constitutional Democrats of St Petersburg of Prof Paul M Milukoff and M Hessen as delegates to the provincial convention have been annulled by the election commission on ground that they are under indictment in connection with the suspension of the Svo Bodanabog of which paper they were editors

The commission has replaced them by conservative candidates, who received scarcely a tenth of the vote cast for M Milukoff and M Hessen The action of the authorities has aroused a storm in radical circles because the commission did not take exception to their candidatures before the balloting. Besides, Professor Milukoff is one of the prominent leaders of the Constitutional Democrats and was expected to be a power in parliament

The rigorous press regulations announced yesterday have been supplemented by a sweeping repressive measure, making it a prison offense to spread false reports about government officials or troops which tend to produce public excitement The penalty is multiplied if such reports result in actual rioting.

MOSCOW April 6—The political prisoners with whom the local jails are crowded have declared a hunger strike (refusing to partake of food) to compel the authorities either to bring them to immediate trial or order their release Many of the prisoners have been three months in jail without being confronted with the charges against them notwithstanding the fact that Interior Minister Durnovo in an official order made public some time ago instructed the local officials throughout the empire to confront prisoners within 24 hours with the charges which caused their arrest But the police also received instructions to hold by administrative order all prisoners against whom no definite charges could be brought The decision of the political prisoners to starve themselves has increased the excitement caused by the election campaign here which closes Sunday

COPY OF WILL FILED

Value of Mary Burton Harrison's Estate Estimated at $4,000,000.

REDWOOD CITY, Cal., April 6.—An exemplified copy of the will of Mary Burton Harrison, who was killed in an automobile accident on Long Island on November 23, 1905, was filed here today. Mrs. Harrison was the daughter of the late Colonel C. F. Crocker and the wife of Congressman Francis Burton Harrison of New York. Her will was probated in the surrogate's court of New York on February 5 of this year and her husband, Francis Burton Harrison, and Henry T. Scott of Burlingame were appointed executors. Messrs. Harrison and Scott apply for letters testamentary in this county.

Mrs. Harrison was the owner at the time of her death of one-third interest in a homestead at Uplands in this county, and also the owner of an interest in certain property in San Francisco and Los Angeles counties. She gave $50,000 to Mary Scott Martin, wife of Walter S. Martin and daughter of Mr. Scott, and several articles of jewelry to her brother, Charles T. Crocker, and her sister, Jennie Adeline Crocker. All the rest of her estate is divided equally between her husband, Francis Burton Harrison, and her two infant daughters, Virginia Randolph Harrison and Barbara Harrison. The value of the poperty in this state is given in the petition as more than $10,000. It is probably of the value of about $150,000. The total value of the entire estate of Mrs. Harrison is estimated to be $4,000,000.

WINTHROP TESTIFIES

Governor of Porto Rico Before Insular Affairs Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Governor Winthrop of Porto Rico was heard today by the house committee on insular affairs. The governor replied in part to the criticism of the administration of the island by Mayor Todd and others who were heard some time ago.

The first subject related to the occupancy of government houses in San Juan by officers of the administrations. What is known as the "pink palace," now occupied by Secretary Post, Governor Winthrop said, was granted to the use of Secretary Hartzell by President McKinley, who held out this residence with water and lights as an inducement to Secretary Hartzell to take the position.

As to the charge that native members of the executive council were mere figureheads and were never invited to cabinet meetings, Governor Winthrop said that these members were really executive members and nothing but executive business was discussed at these meetings, he had never invited the native members to attend.

Concerning the criticism that the money appropriated to advance the coffee industry in the island had not been properly expended, the governor said that he had appointed Scott Truxton, an American, to the place of promoter and that it was difficult to get for a salary of $2,500 a native Porto Rican who understood conditions in the United States as well as local conditions. Governor Winthrop will be questioned further next week.

CHANCELLOR VON BUELOW'S HEALTH IS IMPROVED

BERLIN, April 6.—Chancellor Von Buelow, who fainted while in the reichstag yesterday afternoon, slept throughout the night and awoke this morning fresh and clear headed. After taking a cup of coffee, he asked for the newspapers, but Professor Renvers suggested that it would be advisable not to read them. Professor Renvers and the physicians who are associted with him in the case say that no bad consequences are likely to result from the chancellor's illness.

Later in the day the chancellor seemed so much better that he was disposed to do some work, but was dissuaded.

In conversation with Princess Von Buelow, the chancellor said he regretted that he felt so bad yesterday while speaking as to be obliged to omit certain important statements which he intended to make about Germany's relations with the foreign powers.

The emperor and empress during the day sent an enormous bouquet of roses, carnations and lilacs to Princess Von Buelow. She intended going to St. Margherita, a winter resort near Rapollo, where her mother is stopping. The chancellor will probably go there as soon as he is strong enough to travel. He continues to improve in health.

MURDOCK SPEAKS

TALKS IN FAVOR OF COMMERCIAL ALCOHOL CHEAP AND SAFE AS FUEL.

WASHINGTON, April 6. Mr. Murdock, of Kansas, today spoke in favor of the bill to manufacture alcohol.

Mr. Murdock made the claim that if the tax is taken off denatured alcohol it will work a revolution in the field of fuel, power and illuminants. He said:

"This will be accomplished partially through known methods, but greater development will come through methods to be discovered, for there is no industrial subject closed to the open genius of American genius. He knows methods by which the same volume of alcohol burns to eight times as long as kerosene and gives far better light. It is a cleaner and safer fuel than gasoline. By methods that are to come I believe alcohol will advance far beyond its present experiments. I believe this begins the country the chief producer of corn which is the best source of alcohol has for nearly fifty years held its dustrial alcohol down to 10c. In those fifty years all other chemical products and fuels and illuminants have been free. Burnable alcohol for industrial use has been held back. Release it, let American genius have hold of it and it will open the door to a chamber of marvels. The most important effect of removing the tax on denatured alcohol will be its regulation of the present erratic price of kerosene and gasoline. Gasoline sells in some of the eastern cities at nine cents per gallon and in some of the western states at thirty cents per gallon. Kerosene has a similar range. The price of both is arbitrarily fixed. Actual tests have demonstrated that alcohol at thirty cents a gallon is cheaper for light than kerosene at fifteen cents a gallon. Twenty-cent alcohol would drive ten-cent kerosene down in price or out of the market. For internal combustion engines twenty-cent alcohol would bring thirty-cent gasoline down to twenty cents and would in time supplant it perhaps, because gasoline, of which petroleum yields but two per cent, is increasing in price because of its increased use in engines.

"The internal combustion engine is making a conquering march through the land. Light in weight, small in size, easy to start, requiring a minimum of attendance while in operation, it is everywhere bringing new economies. It is turning the weekly newspaper press, the town feed mills, the lathe of the village blacksmith, the belt of the local elevator, and in some sections, it bales the farmer's hay, shells his corn, shreds the fodder, pumps the water, separates the cream, saws the wood. With the tax removed from denatured alcohol, the use of the internal combustion engine will increase by leaps and bounds. Experts estimate that the output will reach 100,000 alcohol engines a year.

"In 1860, this country produced 90,000,000 gallons of alcohol. This was before the tax went on. David A. Wells, a special commissioner, reported to the fifty-third congress that in his opinion 55 per cent of the whole product prior to the imposition of any taxes on alcohol, was consumed in the arts and industries. Consequently with a population of thirty million in 1860 we used industrially and for fuel and light 30,000,000 gallons, that is, one gallon of alcohol per capita. Leaving out of consideration the great inventions which have come since 1860, other new uses and improved methods, the same proportion would bring our use of denatured alcohol today up to 75,000,000 gallons annually. It will be far greater than that.

BOYCOTT IS BROKEN

Returning Tourists Bring Encouraging News From China.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The Bulletin says that the boycott on American goods in the orient is practically broken. Returning tourists, business men and Chinese who arrived today on the liner America say, that it is only a matter of time when the discrimination against wares made in this country will entirely disappear. A. S. Lambert has just established a mint for the Chinese imperial government in Honan province in the very heart of the empire. He says there is positively no discrimination against American goods in that province or any of the small places that he has visited.

Chan Ki Leung, a silk merchant from China where the trouble started, said: "In Canton there are as many as 20 Chinese firms which are handling American goods and they are finding many buyers."

King, a wealthy board of trade operator who died in 1901, was given $1,000,000 of the King estate by a decision handed down in the circuit court by Judge Walker today. USE KIL-CORNS

HOTEL VICTIMS NUMBER FIFTY

NEARLY ONE HUNDRED INJURED FIRST REPORTS WERE EXAGGERATED. FUNERAL TODAY.

BERLIN, April 6. The latest report concerning the disaster at the Hotel Zum Hirschen at Nagold, Thursday, is that 50 persons were killed, 30 severely and 15 slightly injured. Although all of those persons belonging to the town and vicinity who were missing have been accounted for, the work of searching the debris continues in the fear that bodies of strangers are under the ruins.

The hotel, which was 60 feet by 40 feet, was built of brick & timber frame work for lifting to a higher level had been constructed by a Stuttgart contractor. The house was within less than two inches of the desired level when the disaster occurred. Work had been suspended for dinner and the working force was in one end of the building and the guests, including the local liederkranz, were in the main dining room. The house was placarded with "No admittance" signs all the forenoon but the people grew restless of these when the raising of the building seemed to have been successful and the young persons began dancing. The victims were all local workmen and townsmen or villagers living in the vicinity of Nagold.

Much bitterness prevails at Nagold against the contractor, and the state's attorney from Tuebingen has begun an official investigation of the disaster. It has found that the precautions taken against an accident were of the slightest, but it is doubtful if the contractor is solely responsible for this.

Only three women were among those killed—the landlord's wife and two servants. A common funeral will be held Saturday afternoon.

ELKINS MAKES A SPEECH.

SENATOR ELKINS, of West Virginia, chairman of the Senate Committee on Commerce, yesterday appeared on the floor of the upper branch of Congress in the novel role of a friend of the people. It must have been a sight worth going miles to see. When Mr. Elkins said, "I stand first for the interests of the people of my own state, and after that for the interests of all the people of the United States," his grave and reverend colleagues must have had all they could do to keep from falling dead. But this was not the only startling remark made by the Senator from the coal roads. "My desire and highest purpose," he declared, "is to secure and serve the public interest;" and as there is nothing in the dispatches to indicate that he grinned when he said it, we must infer that he delivered himself of this delicious witticism with solemn face and serious mien, thereby immensely heightening its effect. Another speech like that and Mr. Elkins' fame as the Joe Miller of the Senate will be imperishable.

One of Mr. Elkins' scintillant sentences contains a "joker" somewhat akin to the famous jokers which he and his friend Aldrich are so wont to inject into legislation that otherwise might be prejudicial to the interests of their constituents, the trusts. Said the Senator from West Virginia, "I have no interest that can affect my judgment or prevent me doing my duty as a Senator as I see it." "As I see it"—aye, there's the rub. Senator Elkins sees his duty in exactly the same light that Aldrich, Depew, Platt, Gorman, and a dozen or so other special privilege Senators see theirs. As chairman of the Senate Committee on Commerce, he has been a stumbling block to every effort at effective rate legislation. He is the father of the famous Elkins' anti-rebate law, framed with scrupulous care to be as nearly innocuous as a law can be. Ever since his term in the Senate began, he has represented the great coal and iron carrying roads of West Virginia and Pennsylvania, and if they didn't get all they wanted from the Government it wasn't his fault.

For such a man to talk about representing the people, is sheer tommyrot, for no man can truly represent the people whose conception of duty is circumscribed by the private interests of himself and his friends. Senator Elkins has held these peculiar ideas of duty so long that he has doubtless convinced himself that they are right, for it is an easy thing for a man to argue himself into believing anything which he really wants to believe. But if Mr. Elkins thinks this he ought to keep his belief to himself, for the public would never credit such statements as he made yesterday. If his protestations of virtue were uttered in seriousness, they insult public intelligence; if they were uttered as a joke, they were in very poor taste.

BALLOONS AND AIRSHIPS.

THE tragic death on Long Island a few days ago of Paul Nocquet, an amateur aeronaut, directs attention to the present improved status of ballooning. Nocquet was not a professional balloonist, a "professor" who made ascensions at county fairs, etc., for a consideration. He was a young French sculptor who had won recognition in the world of art, and who took up ballooning because the scientific study of the problem of aerial navigation appealed to him. A few years ago the aeronaut was regarded as in much the same class as the lion-tamer and the snake-charmer, and indeed there are still many men who follow the business because it is an easy, though exceedingly dangerous, way of making a living.

But of late the subject of aerial navigation has engaged the attention of some of the most eminent scientists both in this country and in Europe. Among these are Hiram Maxim and the late Professor Langley. Others of lesser rank in the scientific world who have given the subject careful attention are Lilienthal, Santos-Dumont, the Lebaudys, and the Wright brothers of Dayton, Ohio. All of these men have approached the problem with as much enthusiasm as inspired Darius Green, but with considerably more discretion and scientific knowledge. Lilienthal was not as successful as some of the later investigators have been, notably the Wrights, but it is generally admitted that his experiments with geroplanes were of great value, for he demonstrated the possibility of supporting his machine in the air on outstretched wings so long as forward motion was continued.

The problem of aerial navigation is being studied along two separate and entirely distinct lines. Santos-Dumont and a German inventor, Count Von Zeppelin, are the most successful exponents of the dirigible balloon, which of course depends for its buoyancy on gas. Professor Langley, Professor Alexander Graham Bell and Hiram Maxim have devoted themselves to attempts to discover the principle of actual flight, that is, to contrive a machine which will soar through the air sustained on wings like those of a bird, and driven by propellers similar in principle to those of a steamship. This is admittedly the greater scientific problem, and Professor Langley frequently declared his belief that if the problem of aerial navigation was ever solved it would be through the application of the principle of flight, because a craft which depended for its buoyancy on an inflated gas bag must ever be the creature of the winds and therefore too unstable for practical use.

However, the balloon, even the old-fashioned non-dirigible kind, has its uses other than as a means of amusement, and the balloon corps is recognized as an important part of every modern army. During the Spanish-American War, General Shafter used captive balloons in making observations of the Spanish positions, and it is now possible to attach to a balloon a camera provided with a clockwork arrangement so that it will take pictures at a given time without requiring an operator. This is a vast improvement over the old way of sending a man up to make observations, for it reproduces every detail of an enemy's position with photographic fidelity. The removal of the international ban on aerial torpedoes also makes possible the use of balloons for purposes of attack.

The most careful experimenters, such as Professor Langley and Professor Bell, have not felt justified in declaring that the problem of aerial navigation will be solved, for no practical results of real value have yet been obtained and even the principle has not been definitely determined. Ever since the days of Icarus, man has had a hankering to emulate the bird, and he will probably keep on trying until success rewards, his efforts or the extinction of the race puts an end to them.

CLEAN UP THE CITY.

SPRING house-cleaning time is at hand, and it would be well for all citizens to bear in mind that the house-cleaning process should not stop when the house has been freed from its winter accumulation of dirt. Lawns should be raked, shrubbery and trees trimmed, sidewalks repaired or, better still, new ones built, and there are few places that could not be improved by the judicious use of a little paint. The appearance of the streets depends mostly on the appearance of the homes bordering it, and if residence properties are neglected the streets will present a ragged and uninviting aspect.

For some time the street department has had men at work cleaning out the ditches in readiness for irrigation. This has made apparent the need for more and better ditch boxes. On all of the principal streets there are long stretches of wooden ditch boxes which are badly rotted and ought to be replaced with substantial conduits of stone or concrete. It is poor economy to build ditch boxes of wood, for they last only a few years and are always unsightly. The first cost of stone ditches is considerably greater, but they are practically indestructible and greatly improve the appearance of the property. On all the streets where water is carried in open ditches for irrigating purposes, the boxes should be of the most durable construction, but it is too much to hope for substantial improvements of this character so long as we are unable even to get good sidewalks.

The city health commission has passed a resolution forbidding the dumping of manure within or near the city limits, and also forbidding the dumping of ashes and other refuse except at such times and places as may be named by the Health Commissioner. This ruling, if strictly enforced, will tend to improve the appearance of the city and promote the general health. The city can have no better advertisement than well-kept lawns and clean streets, and there never was a year when the importance of keeping up appearances was greater than now. Colorado Springs will be visited during the next six months by more tourists than ever before during a like period, and much depends on the impression made upon them. Our new residents are largely recruited from the summer visitors, people who come here only for health or pleasure, but who, after closer acquaintance, decide to make this their permanent home. First impressions are always the most lasting, and if the city can be made so attractive as to win the enthusiastic praises of all comers, it will be greatly to our advantage.

The Pike Centennial will be the only celebration of any kind held this year in which the United States Government will participate, and this will be the means of bringing here thousands of well-to-do tourists who in recent years have formed the exposition habit. Last year it was the Lewis and Clark fair, in 1904 the St. Louis Exposition, in 1901 the Pan-American at Buffalo, and now it is to be the Pike Centennial at Colorado Springs. Vice President Fairbanks is to be here as the guest of Thomas F. Walsh; Secretary Taft will probably come, and the Army maneuvers will attract a great many noted visitors. In view of these facts it behooves the people of Colorado Springs to put the city in order.

The St. Petersburg election commission is now proceeding to remove the men who were elected to office and replace them with officials of its own choosing. It isn't necessary to practice fraud in a Russian election. The easier and better way is to wait until the election is over and then kick out all objectionable winners.

Representative Murdock, of Kansas, advocates the removal of the tax from alcohol for commercial purposes. If Kansas can't beat the Standard Oil Company in one way, she is determined to do it in another.

The trouble between Austria and Hungary has been patched up, and peace will prevail until further notice. Now, where will the next bunch of political trouble break loose in Europe?

Perhaps, if Dowie does bring back the promised $10,000,000 in gold to "the faithful in Zion," a motion to reconsider his expulsion from the church might be gotten through.

Dowie promises to return to Zion City and perform a miracle. Does that mean that he will settle down and be decent?

We gather from Mr. Rainey's speech in the House yesterday, that he wants the Government to call time on the watch trust.

"Streams of lava are flowing toward Pompeii." Sounds like a leaf from ancient history.

HARD ON PATTERSON.

Young Mr. Patterson, of Chicago, is progressing rapidly. Last Sunday, in a speech, he denounced employers of labor as "drones" and "pensioners on the bounty of workmen," and is said to have advised his hearers to confiscate the property of such unworthy persons. If these reports are true, the sincere sympathy of all humane people should go out to young Patterson's father in this, his hour of humiliation and sorrow.—Kansas City Journal.

LIEUT. PIKE'S DIARY

For One Hundred Years Ago Today

Monday, 7th April, 1806. Loaded our boats and departed at forty minutes past ten o'clock, at one o'clock arrived at Clear river, where we found by canoe and men. Although I had partly promised the Folk Avoin chief to remain one night, yet time was too precious, and we put off, passed the grand rapids, and arrived at Mr. Dickson's just before sundown; we were saluted with three rounds. At night he treated all my men with a supper and a dram. Mr. D., Mr. Faulize, and myself sat up until four o'clock in the morning.

"BROADENING DOWN."

Men who are attacking the courts of the United States, and particularly the supreme court, as if they were instruments of oppression or bulwarks of corporate privilege, are surely newcomers in our national domain, or are persons who have learned nothing of our history. With his mother's milk, the American citizen should imbibe the knowledge that the United States courts are the chief defense and insurance of the rights of the people of the whole country and their record.

Almost from the moment of its creation, the supreme court began to uphold the rights of the people of the nation against invasion by the states which was in fact and truth corporate aggression. In one of the supreme court's earliest decisions, that in the case of Chisholm against the State of Georgia, the court overthrew the power of a state to trample on the rights of a citizen of another state. But for the decision of the supreme court in the case of Gibbons against Ogden, 1824, the steam navigation of the Hudson river would have been made the monopoly of a private concern, and every interior waterway in the United States might today have been the exclusive possession of some monopoly, chartered by a state, instead of being open to all.

But for the supreme court, tolls would be exacted by the states upon commerce passing through their territory. It was a decision of the supreme court which completely established the supremacy of the civil over the military power. From decision to decision, the rights of citizens of the United States, from 1792, when the first great decision was rendered, until the present time, have been slowly broadening down from precedent to precedent.

What power was it that applied the anti-trust law of 1890 to railroad companies? The supreme court, by its decision in the Transmissouri case. This decision destroyed the traffic associations. What power was intervened to investigate, with the interstate commerce commission, facts controlling transportation rates? That of the federal courts. What power broke up the division of the territory of the United States between the trusts and the fixing of prices within that territory, and established the principle that congress can regulate trusts that do an interstate business? The supreme court, in the Addyston Pipe case. What gave to the state railroad commissions the power to fix rates within the states? The supreme court's "Granger decisions." What power confirmed the right of congress to prohibit the monopolies contrived by mergers and holding companies? The supreme court in the Northern Securities case. What power, by a lately momentous decision, cut off the privilege of railroads to deal in and monopolize products they carry, and established the authority of congress over every carrier engaged in interstate commerce? The supreme court, in the recent coal roads case.

Finally, what power has stepped in and swept away at one blow the evasions by which combinations of capital seek to escape the liabilities of individuals, and forced them to publish their secrets? The supreme court, in the recent paper and tobacco trust cases.

No; the federal courts, and the supreme court in an especial way, have not only progressively widened the constitution by their decisions, but in their interpretation of the statutes have rejected narrow and restrictive meanings, and put the seal of definitive law upon the broader public view, giving the people the benefit of every legal doubt that has arisen.—New York Evening Mail.

IN EXTENUATION.

It is reported from the Vatican that the women of no other country interfere so much in matters ecclesiastical as do those of the United States. Perhaps the report is correct, but it is also true that the women of no other country are better fitted to interfere in ecclesiastical and all other affairs.—Cripple Creek Times.

HOPE IT WILL LAST.

Several efforts have been made to organize and maintain an efficient fruit growers' association in Fort Collins, but in each instance they failed of their purpose. The organization thrived for a brief period and then blasted and dropped out of sight to be heard of no more. There is room for such an association in this city and work for it to do, and it is fondly to be hoped that the organization perfected at the city hall on Wednesday has the necessary staying qualities to make its life long and useful to the fruit growers of the Cache la Poudre valley—Ft. Collins Courier.

PUBLICITY IS NEEDED.

The public should be able to get official information from the state as to the nature and value of the securities of a state bank. The public is entitled to know who owns the stock, and all about the organization and the assets and liabilities of a state bank. What is the scope in the state giving these banks life by incorporating them, and then let them bunco the public without fear of discovery until it's too late to do any good? Publicity is what is needed and close supervision over their methods. The Republican party will see to it that such a law is passed next winter.—Wray Rattler.

Near to Nature

ZOOLOGY IN WEST VIRGINIA.

Our friend Johnny Graham is a mighty funny man when he writes in his Daily News. Last week he gave us a glowing account of where a horse got on the railroad track in front of Chesapeake and Ohio freight train in the region about Brooks. The horse, he said, ran many miles about eight, we think—lickety-split right down the track in front of the engine. The engineer had the train under complete control, but followed on, whilst the "bovine," as Johnny calls the beast, ran at break-neck speed just ahead. After about five miles, say, we could not see why the engineer did not take the hint and shut down until the frightened animal could be taken from the track. But be that as it may, at the end of the chase, the News says, the horse fell over in the side ditch, completely exhausted, and the News does not know—in fact, none of us know—whether or not the animal recovered. But, for the Lord's sake, what kind of horse is a bovine horse? A bovid relates to the tribe of ruminant mammals, of which the genus Bos or ox, is the type. A horse belongs to that class of mammals of which the genus equinus asinus jackassicus is the type. Does the News mean to say that the mammal that fled before the G. & O. at Brooks last week was an amalgamation of the genus bos and the genus equinus asinus jackassicus? And did this amalgamation chew the cud or divide the hoof? Or what manner of animal was he? Now, if he were a bovid or a bovine, he was not a horse, and if he were a horse he was not a bovid or a bovine, according to Hooker or any other zoologist, and yet the News states plainly that this mammal was a horse and a bovid, and that he died before this G. & O. engine like Joseph in Egypt died before his merciless tormentress.—Hinton (W. Va.) Independent-Herald.

THE NEVER-DO-WELL

He was gentle and kind; he would plan half the day
For an unlooked-for act that would please you some way.
He would sit up all night with a friend who was ill,
And to do you a favor would work with a will—
But he never amounted to much.

There was something about him that got to your heart;
It was plain that he never was playing a part
But that all that he did he was doing for you
And that he was a friend who was lasting and true—
But he never amounted to much.

All the boys he grew up with went rising to fame.
There were some who made money, and all made a name.
Art and music and letters, the law of finance
Every one of the rest made the most of his chance—
But he never amounted to much.

Why, there wasn't a child but would come to his arms,
For of jingles and stories he knew all the charms;
Yes, and even the dogs in the street used to leap
At his hand with a bark that was laughingly deep—
But forever amounted to much.

And nobody could tell why he had such a hold
On the rich and the poor, and the young and the old;
He was always on hand for some kind little deed,
He instinctively knew when a friend was in need—
But he never amounted to much.

They have folded his hands, they have laid him to rest—
And the church couldn't hold all the friends he possessed;
And fair memories mingled their smiles with the tears
Of the ones who recalled the good deeds of his years—
But he never amounted to much.
—Chicago Tribune.

IMMIGRATION TENDENCIES.

For half a century after 1820, when the government first began a systematic tabulation of immigration, foreigners seeking domiciles in the United States were largely of the Teutonic races: British, German and Norsefolk. They sought the United States for various reasons, but among these may fairly be reckoned a preference for our institutions based on at least a certain amount of knowledge of them and their workings. For a very long time, these people constituted three-fourths of the annual addition of aliens to our population, roughly speaking. Indeed, it was not until about twenty-five years ago that immigration from Austria-Hungary, the Russian empire and Italy attained proportions that made the contributions from those countries stand out with any sharpness in the annual tabulations of our government. In these there are but thirteen arrivals from Austria-Hungary recorded for the year 1861, 129 from Russia-Finland and 854 from Italy. In the same year there were 58,356 immigrants from Great Britain and Ireland and 52,116 from Germany. As the Civil war exercised great influence on immigration, 1861 is a convenient date from which to trace the great change in the sources of immigration. Briefly it is set forth in the following tables by decennial dates, and in comparison with the fiscal year ended June 30 last:

IMMIGRATION FROM AUSTRIA-HUNGARY.
In 1861	13	In 1891	71,942
1871	4,887	1901	113,550
1881	27,935	1905	275,693

FROM RUSSIAN EMPIRE AND FINLAND.
1861	129	1891	47,426
1871	1,208	1901	85,257
1881	10,655	1905	184,897

FROM ITALY.
1861	954	1891	76,055
1871	2,816	1901	135,966
1881	15,401	1905	221,478

Turning from these tables to those dealing with British and German immigration one can readily realize the force of the great change to which we have referred:

IMMIGRATION FROM UNITED KINGDOM.
In 1861	58,350	In 1891	122,287
1871	126,882	1901	63,546
1881	153,714	1905	137,134

FROM THE GERMAN EMPIRE.
In 1861	52,116	In 1891	113,554
1871	82,554	1901	21,651
1881	210,483	1905	40,574

Finally, of the 1,026,499 immigrants arriving in the United States in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1905, those coming from Austro-Hungary, Italy and the Russian empire combined aggregated 682,082, or about 68 per cent of the total influx of aliens.

Of course, statistics are not conclusive of the value of immigration, but they do cast some light on the process necessary to the assimilation of the great crude masses that are thrown on our shores for conversion into citizenship. Thus of the 1,026,499 immigrants, 230,882 over 14 years of age were wholly illiterate, and as for thrift, 679,565 brought with them less than $50 in cash each, the total amount of money shown being $25,159,612.—Boston Transcript.

A SPELLING REFORM BILL.

The cause of "go as you please" spelling of English words has secured an illustrious representative in the person of Mr. Justice Brewer, of the United States supreme court. But that fact adds nothing to the respectability of the fad. Justices of the United States supreme court are not infallible. They are not even theoretically infallible off the bench. The cause of "go as you please" spelling is inherently bad and no adherence can make it otherwise.

The whole reform movement is founded on error. It is based on the theory that the present mode of spelling is purely arbitrary in its origin. This theory is utterly mistaken. There is not a letter in any word in the English language that is not there for some reason, good or bad, nor one that does not convey to the seeing eye some valuable information as to the origin, history, exact meaning and proper pronunciation of the word. For example, the word "photograph" proclaims itself a word of Greek origin to every quarter-educated man, and instantly defines its meaning to every man with the least knowledge of Greek. It will continue to do so as long as the English language lasts, if it is let alone. But "fotograf," which the spelling reformers would substitute for it, furnishes no clew to the eye as to its origin or meaning. "Photograph" is the reasonable and logical spelling. "Fotograf" is the arbitrary and senseless spelling.

Long ago an old spelling reformer substituted "traveler" for "traveller," though the reason and usefulness for the old double "l" are perfectly clear. It was a guide to the correct pronunciation of the word. One knew how to pronounce "traveller" the moment he laid eyes on it. Now it looks as if it ought to be pronounced "traveler," and that is the way it will be mispronounced before long. Look at the fate of "programme." That method of spelling the word is etymologically correct. It reveals the derivation and meaning of the word at sight. It gives the important, meaningful syllable its proper conspicuousness. It indicates the proper pronunciation of the word, emphasizing the important syllable. The spelling reformers have succeeded in persuading many to misspell it "program." The consequence is that it is now commonly pronounced in a manner that can not be indicated by the types—an emphatic "pro" followed by a sort of inarticulate grunt—emphasizing the qualifying particle and making unintelligible the important noun. Some especial sinners even call it "prog-r'm," making both syllables etymologically senseless.

The spelling reformers, in their eagerness that words should be spelled as they are pronounced, a matter of not the slightest importance, forget that words are intended for the eye as well as for the ear; that the eye-form of the word should be permanent to keep within bounds the constant fluctuation of the ear-form caused by carelessness, ignorance and the passing fads of mispronunciation by which silly people seek to advertise their make-believe culture; that go-as-you-please spelling will be followed by go-as-you-please pronunciation; that go-as-you-please pronunciation will soon make gibberish of any language, so that if its words are to be spelled as they are pronounced, they will be spelled differently about every time they are written; that the logical outcome of "spelling reform" will be the utter destruction of the science of etymology, the conversion of the English language into as lifeless and worthless a thing as any of the foot artificial languages that come and go, the disappearance of written English entirely and the degeneration of the spoken language into a mere gibberish, showing no trace of its derivation and growth.

To risk all this for the convenience of a few lazy people who won't take the trouble to learn to spell seems hardly worth while.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

REST BEING.

Far hence in the infinite silence
How we shall learn and forget,
Know and be known, and remember
Only the name of regret.

Sown in that ample quiet,
We shall break sheath and climb,
Seeds of a single desire,
In the heart of the apple time.

We shall grow wise as the flowers,
And know what the bluebirds sing,
When the hands of the grasses unravel
The wind in the hollows of spring.

And out of the breathless summer
The aspen leaves will stir,
At your low sweet laugh to remember
The imperfect things we were.
—Bliss Carman, "Songs of the Sea Children."

AN 8,000,000-ACRE FARM.

Don Luis Terrazas, the Mexican Croesus who once offered to assume all the debts owed by his country, has a farm of about 8,000,000 acres in the state of Chihuahua. It takes Mexican Central trains half a day to cross the farm. Don Luis is thought to own more than 1,000,000 cattle, but a bagatelle of 100,000 or so more or less never bothers him. His stable consists of some 100,000 horses, his sheep fold of 700,000 sheep. From 200,000 to 300,000 calves are branded with his brand every spring. More than 1,000 cowboys and so on keep his cattle on a thousand hills.

SHADOWS.

They seemed to those who saw them meet
The casual friends of every day.
Her smile was undisturbed and sweet,
His courtesy was free and gay.

But yet if one the other's name
In some unguarded moment heard
The heart you though so calm and tame
Would struggle like a captured bird.

And letters of mere formal phrase
Were blistered with repeated tears—
And this was not the work of days.
But had gone on for years and years

Alas, that love was not too strong
For maiden shame and manly pride!
Alas, that they delayed so long
The goal of mutual bliss beside!

Yet what to chance could them reveal,
And neither would be first to own.
Let fate and courage now conceal,
When truth could bring remorse alone.
—Richard Monckton Milnes.

SOME BIG ORGANS.

The cathedral of St. John the Divine still consists, to the eye of the passenger on the elevated, of a few great naked pillars, a single rude, unfinished arch, and a great deal of massive litter. But it is announced that the organ which is to thunder forth praises beneath its roof, when that roof is raised at last, has already been ordered, and that it is to be "one of the most powerful in the world." It will need to be powerful in order to fill every nook and cranny of the vast cathedral that is so very slowly raising itself on Morningside heights.

But it may well be powerful, for never before has it been possible for an organ builder to avail himself of so many mechanical agencies favorable to volume and effect. Hydraulic organs date back many centuries, and electrical organs to 1868, but not until now, we believe, have air currents been driven through mammoth cylindrical "resonators" by means of an apparatus resembling the pistons of engines, and never until now have these resonators been extended beneath the floors of cathedrals, to produce there vast subterranean roarings that may resemble a cross between a thunder peal and earthquake. Under the system according to which the new organ for St. John's is to be built, the cathedral really would appear to become a part of the organ rather than the organ a part of the cathedral.

At the present moment, if we mistake not, the largest organ in this country is in the Mormon Tabernacle at Salt Lake City. It was erected originally in Music hall, Boston, but was not an economic success there, and was long ago bought by the Mormons. But this is smaller than the organ in the Royal Albert hall in London. The finest and most famous organs in this city are probably those in St. Patrick's cathedral, in St. Bartholomew's, in the Church of the Ascension, in St. Mary the Virgin's, in Plymouth church, Brooklyn; in St. George's and in the Temple Emanu-El.

Considering that Puritanism and Presbyterianism have in times past, utterly condemned organs, great and small, as a sacrilegious attempt to "praise God by machinery," the cause of good organ music has fared pretty well in this country. If there is a large church in any large town in the country that is without an organ, it would be hard to tell where it is. The advance from the small contrivance that is not unfittingly described by the Scotchman as a "kist o' whustles" to the vast modern mechanical affair, with thundering resonators under the church floor, has been tremendous.

ME WAS A DIFFICULTY.

I like the comfortable life
Above all things to take my ease;
But then, you see, I have a wife
Whom it is my desire to please.
And pleasing her, I strive to say
My hopes of sweet content take wing.
I sacrifice them every day
Because it isn't quite the thing.

I like to elevate my feet
Upon a table or a chair,
In times of quite excessive heat
A coat I always hate to wear.
Some pie-crust really needs a knife,
And to old habit still I cling.
That doesn't go with my dear wife,
Because it isn't quite the thing.

I may not breakfast till I dress.
My pipe indoors I may not smoke
To which, however, I confess,
She hasn't got me wholly broke.
Whatever I may do, I find
Some rule of etiquette she'll spring.
And language can't relieve my mind,
Because it isn't quite the thing.

The Prevailing Styles in Men's Suits.

For this season are radically different from those of a year ago.

The exceptionally graceful fashion forms for this season are extremely attractive, but have such peculiar characteristics that men who insist on garments that are especially adapted to their personal requirements should see our showing of Stein-Bloch and Alfred Benjamin models for this season. These models are made by the artistic tailors. As the leading clothiers of Colorado Springs, we are pleased to announce that we now have ready for your inspection an especially large assortment of all the new models and fabrics.

HORSES MUST NOT BE OVERLOADED

HUMANE AGENT BEGINS A CAMPAIGN AGAINST COAL TEAMSTERS, ONE OF WHOM IS FINED $10 AND COSTS.

"The practice of loading wagons with upward of three tons of coal and the compelling one team of horses to haul the heavy load from the coal mines five miles north of the city over rough roads into Colorado Springs, will have to be stopped, and if necessary we will arrest every driver we find doing such business," said officer A. A. Ransom of the State Bureau of Child and Animal Protection yesterday.

Albert Rogers has been fined $10 and costs for cruelty to a horse in beating it with a trace chain. The case was called up before Justice W. N. Ruby and Rogers entered a plea of guilty. The driver said the horse was balky. Officer Ransom alleged that the reason for the animal refusing to pull was because the wagon was loaded with 7,200 pounds of coal.

C. E. CONVENTION ARRANGEMENTS

COMMITTEES AT WORK AND INDICATIONS ARE THAT MEETING WILL BE MOST SUCCESSFUL.

A meeting of the convention committee of the Colorado Christian Endeavor union was held in the Y. M. C. A. parlors last evening and preliminary arrangements were made for the eighteenth annual convention which will be held in this city on June 21-24. Committees were appointed and program arrangements were considered. A meeting of the state Christian Endeavor executive committee will be held at the Y. M. C. A. building this afternoon when further program details will be arranged.

The principal speakers at the convention will be the Rev. Dr. McElveen, pastor of the Shawmut Congregational church of Boston, vice president of the Massachusetts Christian Endeavor union and president of the Congregational union of the United States and Von Ogden Vogt, of Boston, secretary of the International Christian Endeavor union, who will attend the International Christian Endeavor at Geneva, Switzerland, in July.

Six committees were appointed last evening. The chairmen are: Entertainment, Miss Kelso; reception, Thomas Holland; music, Dr. Gray; decoration, George Perry; press and advertising, the Rev. C. S. Brooks; usher, George Altar.

The convention committee is composed of the Rev. I. J. Hoser, chairman; Robert Crosby, vice chairman; Miss Forshee, recording secretary; Miss Train, corresponding secretary; Ralph Rathbun, financial secretary, and the chairmen of the subcommittees.

H. R. Chapman, president of the state Christian Endeavor union, in speaking of the outlook for the convention, last evening said:

"We hope to have, this year, a convention which will do honor not only to Colorado Springs, but to the state of Colorado. Never in my experience with conventions, and I have been president of the state Christian Endeavor union for five years, have I seen the preparations for a conventions run along so smoothly as they have this year. Committees and their chairmen have been appointed without a sign of friction and we believe we could not do better in securing speakers. I am well satisfied that this year's convention will be a wonderfully successful one and that the arrangements which have been begun with so much satisfaction, will be completed in good time to receive the delegates."

CITY HALL NOTES

Children's Bonfire Sets Fire to Residence—Police Court.

The residence occupied by James Cassidy, 712 South Cascade avenue, caught fire at 1:47 o'clock yesterday afternoon from a bonfire that children had started to burn up rubbish. An alarm was sent in from box 47, calling out Hose companies 1 and 2 and the truck, and the prompt work of the firemen limited the damage to about $10.

Fred Lesse and Pat Mulvay arrived in the city yesterday noon in an intoxicated condition and decided that the Antlers park was a comfortable place in which to sleep off the alcoholic effects. An officer had them hauled to the police station in the patrol wagon, and they will explain matters to Judge Toombs this morning.

Hugh Campbell furnished the only case to be called in the police court yesterday. He was fined $5 and costs for being intoxicated.

SELF-CONFESSED MURDERER MUTE

FRANK FARROW, SLAYER OF DENA KING, WOULD NOT PLEAD ON HIS ARRAIGNMENT.

Frank Farrow, a negro coal miner, was arraigned in the district court yesterday to plead to a charge of murdering his mistress, Dena King, aged 22 years, in a room occupied by the couple at 16 North Sierra Madre street, on Monday, March 5, 1906. When the information was read to him Farrow stood mute and the court directed that a plea of not guilty be entered. The case was set for trial on April 16. The prisoner was remanded to the custody of the sheriff without bail.

The killing was one of the most cold-blooded in the annals of the criminal courts of this county. Farrow had been living with the woman for some time, and it is alleged that when Miss King refused to support him in idleness any longer he calmly drew a revolver and shot her through the head, killing her instantly. He then went to Colorado City and an hour later was arrested by Police Chief George Birdsall in a negro dive, after selling the revolver for $4.

COAL STOLEN BY CAR INSPECTOR

GIVEN A LIGHT PENALTY BECAUSE OF SIXTEEN YEARS OF SERVICE WITH RAILROAD.

After being in the employ of the Rock Island company as car inspector for over sixteen years, J. B. Painter was found guilty of stealing coal from the company's yards at Roswell and fined $5 and costs. The case was called up before Justice W. N. Ruby who imposed a small penalty in view of the excellent reputation that Painter has heretofore borne and which was admitted by the witnesses for the company. The company has lost thousands of tons of coal by thefts and is determined to put a stop to the practice.

MAY GARNISHEE WAGES

Inspector Finds Legal Lever to Enforce the Poll Tax.

Col. W. H. Sweeney, of Pueblo, special poll tax collector, is expected to come to El Paso county within a few weeks, to arrange for collecting the poll tax. One fact is that many people who heretofore have neglected or evaded payment of this tax, now will have to do so.

For the first time in the history of the state the full poll tax assessment has been collected from some of the counties, according to Col. Sweeney. Seven of the counties have paid the full quota and two of the seven, Douglas and Archuleta counties, paid more than the amount assessed against them. The counties having the larger cities show up poorly in payment of the tax because there is greater opportunity to evade it in the city than in the country.

Test cases are to be made in some of the cities of the state, where men refuse to pay the tax. The law permits wages to be garnisheed for the tax, and delinquents will have to pay the costs of a lawsuit in addition to the per capita tax of $1.

GEO. FINLAY INJURED

Sprinter May Be Unable to Participate in Field Events.

George Finlay, sprinter for the High school track team, received accidental injuries yesterday which may prevent him from participating in the field events to be held this spring. Yesterday afternoon, while the team was practicing on the new athletic field, Corona and Uintah streets, Murphy was putting the 12-pound shot, when the ball struck Finlay upon the right leg below the knee. The limb was swollen to twice its natural size last evening, and it is feared that Finlay may be knocked out of the sports which are to begin on April 20, when the local meet will be held. The team is also scheduled to meet the High school teams of the southern division the latter part of the month, and on May 12 the Interscholastic meet will be held at Boulder.

A FORMER SPRINGS MAN BOOSTS FOR LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, Cal., is preparing to spend $150,000 in entertaining visiting members of the Masonic fraternity during the gathering of the Shriners to be held there this summer. Such is the information conveyed in a letter received yesterday by City Clerk K. M. MacMillan from Matt Conway, formerly a resident and business man of this city. Mr. Conway is now in business at 405 Laughlin building, Los Angeles, and in speaking of the progress that city is making recites the fact that building permits, representing new buildings costing over two millions of dollars, were issued during the month of March.

TWO DIVORCES GRANTED

Maud E. Bryce Gets Separation From C. H. Bryce for Nonsupport.

Maud E. Bryce was granted a decree of divorce in the county court yesterday from Charles H. Bryce upon the grounds of nonsupport. The couple were married in Milwaukee on May 10, 1898, and Mrs. Bryce testified that for the last three years she has been obliged to support herself. Bryce was released from the state penitentiary last August after serving a term for embezzlement.

The marriage bonds which on May 27, 1887, united Rozella and Jacob O. Marks were severed by a jury in the county court yesterday upon the grounds of nonsupport and desertion. The testimony showed that Jacob Marks deserted his wife in the summer of 1891, at Kokomo, Ind., and ever since had failed to contribute to her support.

MUST KEEP CITY CLEAN

Health Department on War Path About Dumping.

To preserve the cleanliness of the city to an even greater extent than heretofore, the Colorado Springs health commission has decided to place stricter regulations upon the dumping of refuse matter within the city limits or adjacent to them. Members of the commission have been investigating practices in violation of the regulations regarding the dumping of manure and a warning has been issued, stating that the practice is forbidden as a nuisance. The dumping of ashes and other refuse is forbidden except at such times and places as may be designated by the health commissioner. Violation is punishable by arrest and fine under the penalty clause of the health laws.

LONE STAR TOURISTS

Many Texans to Visit Colorado Springs This Summer.

Several Lone Star state young women will come to Colorado Springs this summer to spend a week or two in the Rockies as guests of the Houston Daily Chronicle. J. W. Riggins, former mayor of Waco, Texas, who is connected with the Chronicle, is in the city arranging for the visit of the young women who are winners in a contest now being conducted by his paper.

"All our Texas people are making money nowadays—it's the most thriving part of the United States. Texans look to Colorado as the ideal pleasure resort," says Mr. Riggins, "and to Colorado Springs as the best of the best. More Texas people will come here this summer than in any previous season. The prizes in our contest include trips to a number of different cities, but we are offering more to Colorado than to any of the others, because the people like to come here in preference to any other section of this country."

TO INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Thirteen-Year-Old Boy Ordered Recommitted for Theft of Revolver.

Charles Gardner, aged 13, was ordered re-committed to the State Industrial school at Golden and was taken there by Juvenile Officer Reasoner yesterday.

The boy was first brought into the juvenile court in January, 1905, and was ordered sent to Golden. After being at the school a few months, the lad's mother was ordered to California by her physicians, and the boy was permitted to accompany her. After a few months on the coast the mother returned to Colorado with the boy and he again got into mischief, stealing various articles.

The father then took the boy south and left the youngster with an uncle, but when the father was killed by the cars, Charlie was again returned to his mother. Last week he appropriated a revolver belonging to Music Bros. and threatened to shoot some of his playmates. Then the court again took charge of the youngster and ordered his return to Golden.

A Habit to Be Encouraged.

The mother who has acquired the habit of keeping on hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, saves herself a great amount of uneasiness and anxiety. Coughs, colds and croup, to which children are susceptible are quickly cured by its use. It counteracts any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia, and if given as soon as the first symptoms of croup appear, it will prevent the attack. This remedy contains nothing injurious and mothers give it to little ones with a feeling of perfect security. Sold by all druggists.

Wait for "The Firemen's Ward." Opera house, April 17.

BUYS AUTOMOBILE—Automobile license No. 162 has been taken out by R. W. Chisholm, who has received a new machine, the Orient, a make heretofore not seen in Colorado Springs. It is claimed to be perfection in the air-cooling of gasoline motors. The car is rated at 20-horse power and is built especially for efficiency in this region of light atmosphere. It will carry five persons.

NEWS OF THE COURTS

Special Venire Ordered by Judge Lewis in the District Court.

A special venire of 50 was ordered by Judge R. E. Lewis in the district court yesterday for the purpose of completing the trial of jury cases set for the January term. The jury will be in attendance from April 16 to April 21 inclusive. The names were drawn from the box by Clerk Clyde L. Starrett of the district court and Sheriff O. P. Grimes. The regular panel for the May term of the district and county courts was also drawn, 75 names being on the list for the former and 50 for the latter court.

Mrs. Annie S. Dix, as guardian of the two minors, Annie and Emma Dix, filed a report in the district court yesterday that the sale of lots 11 and 12, block 24, Parrish addition, had been made to Lyman H. Sprout for $350.

Judge Robert Kerr yesterday overruled the motion of Harry Levan for a new trial of his action against Jess Taylor, and ordered that judgment be entered upon the verdict in favor of the defendant. An appeal to the supreme court was granted upon the filing of a bond in the sum of $200 within 20 days.

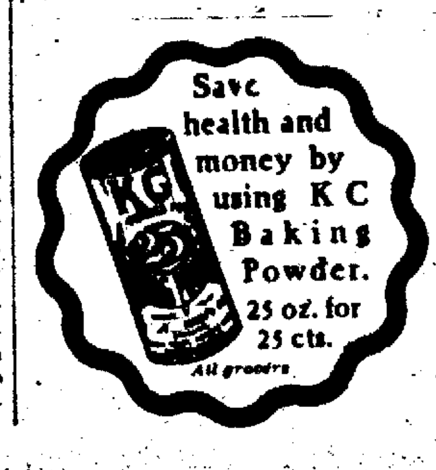

In the probate division of the county court letters of guardianship were issued to Mrs. Ada Agnew as guardian of the Agnew minors, and the court also approved the report in the estate of E. H. Agnew.

A Question that Every Man Should Decide for Himself.

There is one subject in which many of us are interested and that is, what is the quickest way of getting rid of a troublesome cold? This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

AMUSEMENTS

"LITTLE JOHNNY JONES" COMING.

That tremendously successful musical play, "Little Johnny Jones," is the coming attraction at the Opera house on next Friday evening. Mr. Geo. M. Cohan, the author of this frivolity, is perhaps more in the public eye at the present time than any other native author, by reason of the fact that he followed his "Little Johnny Jones" success with a play for Miss Fay Templeton, entitled "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway," which has been declared most successful by many erudite dramatic reviewers.

The "Little Johnny Jones" company that we are to have here is the original one, direct from their 24 weeks' engagement in New York city, and is the same cast that presented this play at its initiative. Mr. Tom Lewis is to be seen as "The Unknown," and Sam J. Ryan as "Timothy D. McGee." The chorus, which numbers 60 trained voices, will be found the same as assisted in the successful presentation of "Little Johnny Jones" since its inception on October 16, 1904.

"DORA THORNE" AT THE OPERA HOUSE

The company presenting "Dora Thorne" at the Opera house gave a very satisfactory performance last evening. The adaptation employed by the company is the handiwork of Leon B. Parker, who has evolved a very satisfactory stage piece. The roles last night were happily cast and the enactment fully equaled, perhaps exceeded, expectations. Miss Donna Sol's "Dora Thorne" is a womanly character, modest and timid, yet strong and self-assertive in the crisis, as good Dora should be. Mr. Gordon as Ronald Earl is quite acceptable. The company will give two performances today—a family matinee this afternoon at 2:30 and this evening. The matinee prices will be, children, 25c; adults, 50c. Evening prices, 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00. The company closes their engagement with the evening performance.

W. S. Trowbridge left here last evening for Rapid City, S. D., called by the serious illness of his father.

CONFIRMED PROOF.

Residents of Colorado Springs Can Have Doubt What Has Been Twice Proved.

In gratitude for complete relief from aches and pains of bad backs—from distressing kidney ills—thousands have publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of Colorado Springs, who so testified years ago, now say their cures were permanent. This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Colorado Springs kidney sufferers.

Mrs. E. P. Kennedy, of 24 North Willow street, says: "In the month of June, 1899, I gave for publication a testimonial about Doan's Kidney Pills after they had cured me of pain in my back. I cannot add anything to my original statement, except this: That what I said was absolutely true, and during the years elapsed since, I have not required the use of Doan's Kidney Pills or any other kidney medicine. When Doan's Kidney Pills cured in my case, it was permanent. I have since recommended them to others."

Plenty more proof like this from Colorado Springs people. Call at D. Y. Butcher Drug Co.'s store and ask what their customers report.

SPRINGS DEBATERS WON

Local High School Gets the Decision Over Pueblo Team.

The Adelphi society of the Colorado Springs High school defeated the Centennial High school of Pueblo in a debate in the High school auditorium last evening. The subject was, "Resolved, That railway freight rates should be regulated by the government." The representatives of the Adelphi society upheld the negative side of the question, and the society was represented by Marion Dietrich, Abraham Pfeiffer and Bruce Gustin. The speakers for the Centennial High school were Raymond Young and Lawrence Acoola.

Professor Sanford Bell, of Boulder, Alva B. Adams of Pueblo and Judge W. S. Morris, of this city, acted as judges. A number of Pueblo people were present at the debate. A musical program was given by the High school glee club. The auditorium was decorated with the colors of the two schools and the friends of the debaters vied with each other in applauding whenever a member of their respective sides scored a point.

With the very first dose they began to improve, and we feel that it has saved their lives." Refuse substitutes. For sale by Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co.

ELKINS ON RATE REGULATION; WANTS HEPBURN BILL AMENDED

WASHINGTON, April 6.—In making an effort today to get the senate to agree upon a date for taking a vote on the railroad rate bill, Mr. Tillman made the important statement that one week more probably would exhaust the general debate on the measure. He failed, however, to secure the consent of Mr. Aldrich, who said that he would not be willing to agree to vote on the bill until it was more nearly perfected than it now is.

During the day there were three speeches on the rate bill. The first of these was made by Mr. Elkins, who, while expressing the opinion that the situation demands legislation, indicated many defects in the pending bill. Mr. Gamble followed in support of the bill and Mr. Kean closed in opposition.

Mr. Elkins was frequently interrupted and some spirited colloquies marked the progress of his remarks.

No senator being prepared to speak tomorrow, the senate adjourned until Monday.

Mr. Elkins announced at the outset his desire to secure legislation that would secure to the people "a prompt and adequate remedy for the evils, injustices, abuses and wrongs of every kind practiced by railroads, or in any way growing out of their operation," but, he said, that while he favors the pending bill, he wanted to make it "better and stronger."

HON. STEPHEN B. ELKINS.

"I stand first for the interests of the people of my own state," he went on, "and after that for the interests of all the people of the United States. I have no interest that can affect my judgment or prevent me doing my duty as a senator as I see it. My desire and highest purpose is to secure and serve the public interest. Because of my supposed interest in railroads, it is charged and believed that I favor the railroad side of this question. This has been so often repeated that I am sure that it will be pardonable if I say, in justice to myself, that my interest on the side of the shipper is ten times greater than on the side of the railroads, and that my interest in railroads is confined to those in my own state."

He declared his principal objection to the house bill to be that it does not go far enough in remedying evils, and expressed the opinion that if enacted into law "it would prove a general disappointment." He said that he was in hearty accord with the president on the subject of rate regulation, and then indicated the respects in which, according to his opinion, the bill falls short in accomplishing all that should be accomplished by railroad legislation. Among these were the following: A prohibition against railroads producing, selling or shipping their own coal and other like articles in competition with other owners; a requirement that switches shall be built where needed to accommodate business; a requirement compelling interstate roads to make connections with connecting lines, and a requirement for the fair and just distribution of cars among shippers.

Commenting on these omissions, Mr. Elkins made reply to the contention that they could be covered by state legislation. He said:

"In the state of West Virginia, and nearly all the states, there has been legislation on these subjects, but for many reasons the law is not invoked.

"In the first place, a shipper, single-handed and alone, cannot afford to sue a great interstate railroad. In doing so, he is bound to incur large expense, great delay, and is sure to incur the hostility of the great through line, which may work irreparable injury to his interests."

He had, he said, introduced amendments covering these defects. "The most important of these," he said, "is the one providing that interstate lines shall make prompt connections with connecting branches or lateral lines, and fair, just and reasonable pro-rating arrangements with them."

He then spoke of the great improbability that additional trunk lines will secure admission to the great cities.

"The people must, therefore, in the future depend largely for the further development of the country and continued increase in business upon short lines of railroad, reaching rich sections."

Illustrating his point by citing the conditions in his own state, Mr. Elkins said:

"In the state of West Virginia and in other states, there are many men who have made large investments in agriculture, coal, timber, iron ore and other lands, who are able and desirous of building short lines from ten to one hundred miles long to reach these lands and find a market for their products, but they will not build them under present conditions, because of the difficulties in the way of getting switches and connections with the interstate lines, and when they do get them securing fair treatment. Men cannot afford to take this risk unless the law guarantees them protection, and the people look to congress to provide this protection in the bill under consideration.

"As matters now stand, it is in the power of the great through lines to largely prevent the building of branch or lateral lines, or to utterly crush them out when built or make them unprofitable. If there is not a provision in this bill compelling connections and fair treatment to short lines, the certain result will be that people who have made investments in lands will lose their money, fewer railroads will be built and there will be less business and less development of the resources of the country."

After the consideration of court review at some length, Mr. Elkins announced his conclusion in the following language:

"First, that any legislation attempting to confer upon the interstate commerce commission the power to fix rates will be unconstitutional unless it prescribes 'the standard of charges which shall control' and requires the commission to conform thereto in fixing rates.

"Second, that any legislation attempting to fix rates would be unconstitutional whose practical effect is to deny to common carriers the right to invoke and obtain, in due time, the protection of the courts from being compelled to transport persons or property at rates which violate the carriers' constitutional rights."

He declared that the pending bill works a clear delegation of the congressional power to fix rates, and added:

"It would seem therefore necessarily to follow that the provisions of the bill, conferring rate fixing power upon the commission are unconstitutional." Mr. Elkins entered upon a long argument to show that no procedure is possible under the bill whereby the carrier may initiate any proceeding in which it can obtain adequate relief against an order of the commission.

There was a general discussion of the West Virginia senator's amendment requiring a proper distribution of the cars of any given [illegible] agreeing that such an amendment would be difficult of enactment. Mr. Tillman was among the senators [illegible] participated in this controversy. During the progress Mr. Elkins referred to the pending bill as Mr. [illegible].

Mr. Tillman [illegible] [illegible] and Mr. Elkins responded:

"You have got it fastened on you with all the disgrace attaching [illegible]."

"I repudiate the [illegible] that there is any disgrace attached to an effort to secure a reasonable rate bill," responded Mr. Tillman, and after he had enlarged somewhat upon his attitude, Mr. Elkins replied that Mr. Tillman had an undue idea of his responsibility to the public. He said that his antagonist acted as if he thought he carried the people in his vest pocket and must take them [illegible] [illegible] to assure them of his [illegible] protection.

[illegible] responded Mr. [illegible] "I hope the senate is not disgraced because some petitions have been sent me from [illegible] state concerning [illegible] [illegible].

Mr. Elkins declared [illegible] [illegible] the least troubled [illegible] [illegible] of the petitions but added that he did feel disposed to protest against Mr. Tillman's attitude as the only friend of the people. He wanted it understood that he, too, was a friend of the people.

Mr. Elkins took occasion to say that he had meant merely as a jest his remark of an hour before to the effect that the handling of the rate bill was a disgrace to any one.

"I accept the apology," said Mr. Tillman.

RAINEY TALKS

Says Watch Trust Exists and Scores Republicans.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Mr. Rainey, of Illinois, immediately after the house met and the journal had been approved, recalled his speech on the alleged iniquities of the protective tariff. Using the watch trust as an object lesson to show how protection works in behalf of monopolies, the lone Democrat from Illinois in the national legislature set up a "kindergarten school for stand pat Republicans."

Mr. Rainey displayed a number of watches of American make which he said had been bought abroad and are now being resold in the United States.

"Why does this member continue to speak of the watch trust?" asked Mr. Gardner, of Massachusetts. "I am a stockholder in the Waltham company and I have no knowledge that they are in a trust."

"You may have to show that before the way and means committee," retorted Mr. Rainey.

Mr. Rainey said in 1880 there were twenty-seven watch factories in the United States. Now there are but thirteen. He said there were 15 per cent more men employed in the watch movement factories now than in 1880. But there are 600 per cent more women employed and 200 per cent more children, and Mr. Rainey thought for the perpetuity of the race this condition ought to be investigated. Mr. Rainey asked the Republicans if he had been sufficiently explicit regarding the watch trust, whether he had satisfied the chairman of the committee on ways and means. He charged Mr. Payne, of New York, with having gone about the chamber yesterday and advised the Republicans not to ask any questions.

"You must have been a mind reader," replied Mr. Payne.

"There are no leaders on the majority side of this house," continued Mr. Rainey. "The real leaders of the Republican party are the McCurdys, McCalls and Hamiltons—the Rockefellers who skulk behind stone walls to resist service—they are the real leaders of the Republican party."

SUFFERED AGONIES FOR FOUR YEARS

Whole Foot Nothing But Proud Flesh —Tried Different Physicians and All Kinds of Ointments—Could Walk Only With Crutches—Ohio Man Says:

"CUTICURA REMEDIES THE BEST ON EARTH"

"In the year 1899 the side of my right foot was cut off from the little toe down to the heel, and the physician who had charge of me was trying to sew up the side of my foot, but with no success. When he found out that wouldn't work, he began trying to heal the wound with all kinds of ointment, until at last my whole foot and way up above my calf was nothing but proud flesh. I suffered untold agonies for four years, and tried different physicians and all kinds of ointments. I could walk only with crutches. It is sixteen months ago since I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment for my limb and foot. The first two months the Cuticura Remedies did not seem to work, but I kept on using them both. In two weeks afterwards I saw a change in my limb. Then I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment often during the day and kept it up for seven months, when my limb was healed up just the same as if I never had trouble.

"It is eight months now since I stopped using Cuticura Remedies, the best on God's earth. I am working at the present day, after five years of suffering. The cost of Cuticura Ointment and Soap was only $6; but the doctors' bills were more like $600. You can publish my name and refer any one to write to me about Cuticura Remedies. I will answer all letters if postage is enclosed. John M. Lloyd, 718 S. Arch Ave., Alliance, Ohio, June 27, 1905."

MONEY GOES UP TO 31 PER CENT.

SEVERE STRINGENCY LASTS BUT SHORT TIME—MARKET MAKES STRONG RECOVERY AFTER OPENING.

NEW YORK, April 6.—Money on call loaned at 31 per cent on the stock exchange today, thus keeping up the tendency of a progressive rise in the maximum for each day this week. The excess over yesterday's 30 per cent rate, however, as is seen, was only nominal. The severest stringency of the day was over before the period at which the flurry had occurred in previous days of the week. This was due in large part to the fact that borrowers were prompt to supply their needs rather than wait until late in the day in fear that terms by that time would be higher than yesterday and the supply of available funds reduced to narrow proportions. The late flurry heretofore has been largely due to this class of borrowers and the quality of that collateral has also played an important part. Cases are related where loans have been arranged but the collateral when presented held to be unsatisfactory, thus compelling the borrowers to make what terms they could late in the day. The forehandedness of borrowers today covered the requirements while there was still plenty of time to make arrangements. The consequence was a sharp relapse in rates in the latter part of the day when borrowers needs were supplied and a remnant of funds left on hand until placed.

Stocks came more freely upon the market early today than at any time this week, the early flight in the call loan rate arousing apprehension of still severer conditions before the close. But the market made a strong recovery when the local loan rate ran off and the most urgent necessities were seen to be filled. The compilations of the week's currency movement published during the afternoon offered ample explanation of the course of the money market during the week. The subtreasury has absorbed $5,195,000. The estimates of the movement to the interior by express on balance differ widely, making the estimates of the net loss cash vary all the way from $7,000,000 to considerably over $10,000,000. As the surplus reserve of the banks last week stood at only a little over $5,000,000, it is clear that the maintenance of its integrity depends upon the extent to which deposits have been reduced by the scaling down of loans. Some of the heaviest lending in the market today was by bankers which called large loans earlier in the week.

Some of the loans thus called were supposed at that time to be of Japanese funds on deposit here, which are being called in for remittance to Japan. It was conjectured that the high rate to which the money had arisen induced the replacement of some of these funds in call loans today. There was continued resort also to the foreign exchange market under which prices for bills in that market made further wide declines and increased the likelihood of gold moving to New York. A small engagement was reported late yesterday and it was reported that local bankers expected to secure gold to arrive in London Monday.

Published estimates of the condition on April 1 of the winter wheat crop, showing a highly favorable situation, were a helpful influence. The demand for stocks following the running off in the money rate was attributed largely to professional short account, but earlier losses were generally recovered and a number of one-point gains established. The money rate fell as low as 6 per cent, but closed at 15 per cent. The closing tone of the stock market was steady, but very dull.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value, $3,290,000.

United States bonds unchanged.

WHEAT REGAINS ITS EARLY LOSS

WEAKNESS EARLY IN SESSION IS PRONOUNCED — CORN CLOSES FIRM AT ADV. OATS STEADY.

CHICAGO, April 6.—The wheat market opened easier because of reports that the exports from Argentina were 4,720,000 bushels, against 3,840,000 bushels the previous week and favorable weather conditions in this country. During the first hour there was free selling by pit traders and commission houses and the weakness became pronounced. News of the day, however, was not all in favor of the bears. The Missouri reports, which declared the condition of wheat in that state to be 85 on April 1, against 87 on March 1, caused considerable covering by shorts. Other factors which assisted in steadying the market were higher prices for cash wheat at outside points and the relative strength of wheat in the southwest. The local market was steady during the last hours and a large part of the early loss was regained. The close was steady. May opened unchanged to ⅛ lower, at 77⅛ to 77⅜, sold off to 77⅛ and closed at 77⅛@77⅜. July ranged between 75⅞@77 and 77@77⅛, and closed unchanged at 77⅛.

The corn market was weak early in the day because of improved weather conditions, but later became firm on buying by cash houses. The market closed firm with prices almost at the highest point of the day. May opened unchanged to a shade lower, at 45@45⅛ to 45⅛, sold off to 44⅞@45 and then rallied to 45⅝. The close was at 45⅝. Local receipts were 195 cars.

Selling of the May delivery by local bulls was the feature of the oats market. The market closed steady. May opened unchanged, at 31⅛, sold off to 31 and closed at 31@31⅛.

Trading in provisions was very quiet, but prices were steady. At the close May pork was unchanged, at $16.12½. Lard was also unchanged, at $8.35. Ribs were 2½c higher, at $8.55.

DUN'S REVIEW

COAL STRIKE HAS BUT SMALL EFFECT ON BUSINESS—THIS YEAR RECORD BREAKER.

NEW YORK, April 6.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade will say tomorrow:

Opening of spring trade is not perceptibly retarded by the partial interruption to coal mining except in the vicinity of anthracite mines. Were it not for a few labor controversies the commercial horizon would be cloudless. That the year 1906 started out to eclipse all records is evinced by bank exchanges, 18 per cent larger than in the first quarter of the previous prosperous year, while liabilities of commercial failures average only 81 cents of each $1,000 of solvent payments through the clearing house, which is the lowest commercial death rate for the first three months of any year. The average loss distributed through all the firms in business was $24.86 to each concern; not a serious burden to be borne by the mercantile world. Railway earnings in March were 6.9 per cent larger than last year, and foreign commerce at this port for the last week showed gains of $1,129,369 in imports and $6,...,969 in exports as compared with the corresponding week in 1905.

Further strength appeared in the hide market.

Failures this week numbered 197 as against 222 last year, and 18 in Canada as against 28 last year.

ONE PRICE TO ALL.

[illegible] COMPANY
23 N. TEJON STREET.

EXPENSIVE GRAND OPERA.

Grand opera costs New York a pretty penny. Conried gave a report, Monday, of the years 1902-3 and 1904-5, by which it appeared that the opera company cost in the former season $724,531, and the Metropolitan opera house $190,637; in the latter season the figures were $847,784 and $329,274. Thus much the larger increase was in the house expenses; the artists and staff cost $522,315 in 1903-4, and $544,153 in 1904-5. Railroad transportation, hotels and other traveling expenses were just doubled in the later season, because of the extensive tour the company made. Everything plainly has been done on a more generous scale by Mr. Conried than by Mr. Grau. The average weekly expenditures will for the present season reach at least $51,000.

HUMAN BLOOD MARKS.

A tale of horror was told by marks of human blood in the home of J. W. Williams, a well known merchant of Bac, Ky. He writes: "Twenty years ago I had severe hemorrhages of the lungs and was near death when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery. It completely cured me and I have remained well ever since." It cures Hemorrhages, Chronic Coughs, Settled Colds and Bronchitis, and is the only known cure for Weak Lungs. Every bottle guaranteed by the Hefley-Arcularius Drug Co. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

EVERYBODY'S EXCHANGE

5c per Line per Issue — 6 Words per Line

Here is the public auction block—the general trading and "swap" counter for the entire city. No matter what you have to trade, somebody else will be wanting that very thing, so announce it here. Trade that old sewing machine for a library table, that old folding bed for an iron bed, that old shot gun for a fishing tackle, that camera for a rifle, that horse and buggy for a corner lot, that corner lot for a summer ranch—it don't make any difference what you want, somebody else will be wanting to get rid of that very thing for something you yourself do not desire. The "Everybody's Exchange" in the Gazette will do the work quickly and quietly and bring the traders together. You can use a "blind" office address and no one except the interested parties will be the wiser.
